MUST VOTE ON IT AGAIN

Blackstone to Have Another Wet and Dry Election.

TOWN OFFICERS NAMED

The Municipal Election to Take Place in June—Want a Baptist Auxiliary School Located There—The Next Representative.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)

BLACKSTONE, VA., May 23.—It seems Blackstone is again to have a "wet" and "dry" election so soon after the one held a few weeks ago. That one, it will be remembered, was ordered by the Board of Town Council as a guide to them in the granting of license. No provision being made for town elections, the old officers had to hold over, and they asked for an expression from the people as to the granting of license.

It appears now that the Legislature has passed an act naming the second Tuesday in June as the day for holding town elections. This being the case, Blackstone will have to hold one here on that date, as its charter prescribes that at each election for town officers the vote shall also be taken "for" or "against" the issuing of license.

At the recent election the result was thirty-three majority against license. It is doubtful if there has been any material change in sentiment since that time, and the chances appear in favor of the "drys" winning this day.

MASS MEETING.

A mass meeting of citizens was held on Tuesday night to nominate a set of officers, to be voted for in June, with the following result:

Mayor, George P. Adams, who was recently elected by the Council upon the resignation of Hon. P. Smith, was unanimously renominated, as were the following gentlemen: Councilmen, Messrs. J. M. Harris, H. H. Seay, G. B. Kennedy, J. D. Cravie, L. C. Tucker, G. L. Bradshaw and Rev. James Cannon, Jr.

The Council ticket is the same that was named in March when it was thought the election would be held that month.

There is a strong effort being made here to have the Baptist denomination locate one of their auxiliary female schools at this place, and great inducements have been held out to them with this end in view.

Dr. Boatwright, president of Richmond College, was here this week looking into the situation, and expressed himself very favorable as to the attractions offered by this place for the school. It was expected that Dr. Boatwright would accompany Dr. Boatwright on his visit here, but was prevented from doing so.

EDUCATIONAL CENTER.

Blackstone is already quite an educational center, with its large Methodist female institute and the Hoge Academy for young men, besides its fine graded school and private schools. The addition of another large school would place us second to but few in Virginia in point of educational opportunities.

To-morrow the first services in the new Presbyterian Church will be held. Women have been busy all this week putting in new pews and arranging for to-morrow's services. The regular dedication of the church will not come for a short while yet, the exact date of which has not been arranged.

The new building is a very handsome brick structure, and a credit to the town, as well as its congregation, who have labored hard to raise the necessary funds for its erection. Upon the dedication a full history of the Presbyterian Church in this section will be published, together with the different pastors.

A remarkable thing about this latter is that there have only been four pastors since the first Presbyterian Church, in this section was organized about three-quarters of a century ago.

POLITICS.

Mr. Henry E. Lee, of Crowe, who, when it was expected a special election would be held on the 5th of May, but later directed the sheriffs of the two counties not to execute the writ, and on the eve of adjournment of the Legislature issued another writ naming the date of the regular election in November. It is generally thought the Speaker will permit this latter writ to be executed.

The committee appointed by the Town Council to fix the water rates to be charged consumers have decided upon a rate of 20 cents per 1,000 gallons. It matters not as to quantity used. The consumers will also bear the expense of connecting with the mains and the cost of the meter.

HOTEL REPAIRED.

Mr. R. B. Spencer, owner of the old Robertson Hotel property, on the corner of Main and Broad Streets, is having it put in repair preparatory to renting it out to be again used as a hotel or boarding-house. It has already been engaged, and will be opened ere a great while.

Mrs. Judge E. D. McKee and daughter, Miss Belle, of Portland, Ore., left on Tuesday for their home after a week's visit to Mrs. W. E. Harris and daughter, Miss Sue Armstrong. Mrs. McKee is the widow of the late Judge McKee, who died at 1 o'clock. Mr. Cole was forty-seven years of age and had been in bad health for some time. The deceased was a member of the Law Faculty and President of Washington and Lee University, and State representative of the Southern Educational Board.

Mr. Tucker will make an address on the occasion of the funeral, which will be held at the address the awarding of distinctions, ribbons and medals, and the conferring of diplomas on the graduates.

Mr. Ham Cole, the section foreman of the Norfolk and Western, died at 1 o'clock. Mr. Cole was forty-seven years of age and had been in bad health for some time. The deceased was a member of the Law Faculty and President of Washington and Lee University, and State representative of the Southern Educational Board.

DANCE AT LINDLEY PARK

Greensboro Young People Had an Enjoyable Time—Very Little Heard of Sale of Telephone Exchange to the American Company.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)

GREENSBORO, N. C., May 22.—The class of 1908, which graduates next week from the State Normal and Industrial College, was most delightfully entertained last evening by Miss Genevieve Jennings at her home on Ashboro Street. The parlors and dining room were beautifully decorated in Normal College colors (white and gold), and in class colors (red and white). The special feature of the evening was the matting of nursery rhymes, which was the source of much amusement. Altogether the evening was most charming, and will be long remembered by each one of Miss Jennings' guests.

Another event of social consequence was a reception last evening by Miss Mamie Walker, complimentary to her guest, Miss Daisie Harcomb, of Mount Airy. Progressive rhymes were played, and a jolly good time was the result. The prize winners were Miss Carrie Wood and Waldo Porter. Miss Bonnie Bishop won the booby.

An enjoyable dance at Lindley Park pavilion last night afforded entertainment for a large number of Greensboro's young people. Dancing began at 10 o'clock and lasted until 1, music being furnished by Williams' professional orchestra.

Very little is heard these days about the reported sale of the Greensboro Telephone and Telegraph Company, announced in this correspondence several weeks ago, but it is understood that the transfer of the property, valued at $75,000, will take place on June 1.

The Proximity Graded School closed its second year of its successful work last night by appropriate exercises in the school auditorium before a large audience. An exceedingly interesting programme, consisting of drills, songs and recitations, was rendered and fully enjoyed. John Mills, Luther Herbin, Blanche Wagstaff, Everett Smith, Eva Wynn and Lottie Campbell were awarded prizes for not having missed a day from the school since September 1st.

Superintendent Broadhurst, of the city schools of Greensboro, gave formal notice of the beginning of the fall term of the Proximity school, that it was graded and this kindergarten was to be established by Mrs. Caesar Cone, for the benefit of children of the age of five.

Mr. and Mrs. Cone have decided to place within the easy reach of the mill operatives every advantage of which they are willing to avail themselves. Mr. Broadhurst stated that the Proximity was easily the best mill school in the State, either that it was graded and systematized with as much care and attention as any other school now under his supervision, and that Mr. Cone was willing to double the number of teachers if necessary to accommodate the children of Proximity who want an education.

Senior Day Class exercises of the Greensboro High School were held in the Lindsay Street chapel this morning. Tonight the graduating exercises take place in the Grand Opera House.
